

UNIVERSITY OF
SOUTH CAROLINA

The Hazards & Vulnerability Research Institute at the University of South Carolina

<http://webra.cas.sc.edu/hvri> is seeking a Post-Doctoral researcher to assist in on-going research and development examining disaster recovery along the Mississippi coast, advancing vulnerability science, and examining community resilience indicators. Applicants must hold a PhD degree in the social sciences, and must have working knowledge of GIS, statistics, and qualitative methods as applied to hazards and disasters. This grant-funded position is available for one year (12 months) starting in January 1, 2010. Please send electronic letter of application, CV, and contact information for three references to Dr. Susan Cutter, Director, Hazards & Vulnerability Research Institute, Department of Geography, University of South Carolina, Columbia, SC 29208, scutter@sc.edu. Deadline for applications is October 30, 2009 or until the position is filled.